AQUATICS
The CRC offers two world-class aquatic facilities for both competitive swimming, leisure play and recreational diving. Community programs also exist for swim lessons, lifeguarding classes as well as scuba diving.

The McAuley Aquatic Center
Home to both the Georgia Tech Swimming and Diving teams, this facility was originally built for the 1996 Olympic Games and is considered one of the fastest pools in the world. The pool is used for classes, clubs, age group and masters teams, as well as recreational lap swimming.

The Vernon D. & Helen D. Crawford Pool
The Crawford Pool is a great place to get in a workout swim or just to relax. The pool area features the leisure pool, which is comprised of six, 25-yard lanes, a 184’ water slide, lazy river, free play area, 16-person spa, dry sauna and an outdoor patio with lounge furniture.

FITNESS
The CRC offers a state-of-the-art fitness facility which includes a fitness floor, indoor track, fitness studios, racquetball courts, basketball courts and more. No matter your fitness goal, the CRC can help you reach it. From personal trainers to martial arts, massage therapy and fitness classes, there is a wide variety of options to work on your physical wellbeing.

COMPETITIVE SPORTS
Continue your passion for sports with the CRC Competitive Sports program. The program provides students, faculty and staff the opportunity for competition and fun within a variety of team activities. Intramural Sports are available for men’s, women’s and co-rec teams with over 20 sports, tournaments, and special events offered each year. Intramurals engage those who desire a competitive atmosphere within a more social, recreational environment. Sport Clubs are student-led organizations in over 44 sports that provide the opportunity to compete on the collegiate level. Although the level of competition and commitment is increased versus Intramural Sports, the real benefit of Sport Club participation lies with the welcoming culture and leadership development each team provides for its members.

OUTDOOR RECREATION
From adventure trips to a leadership challenge course, the CRC has something for every outdoor enthusiast! Instructional adventure trips are available every semester and include cascading, kayaking, mountain biking and more. Tech Treks, the first-year outdoor orientation trips, are available during the summer. The Leadership Challenge Complex provides users with powerful learning experiences through custom workshop topics created to maximize learning outcomes while providing a unique adventure. You can also rent a variety of equipment including kayaks, canoes, backpacking gear and more through the Wilderness Outpost.
